Camp Geronimo

Camp Geronimo is a traditional Scout Resident Camp, that has been in operation for more than 60 years.

At 5,200 feet above sea level and surrounded by one of the world's largest Ponderosa Pine forests, Geronimo is tucked in at the base of the historic Mogollon Rim north of Payson. This area was a favorite place of famous author Zane Grey. Grey wrote many adventure style books, some of his most famous covered the early years of the territory that would eventually become the State of Arizona.

Top Tier Training

This internationally recognized course is the top tier of Leave No Trace training and provides participants with an in-depth look at the skills and ethics of Leave No Trace. In addition to practical applications of Leave No Trace in the field, participants will also learn about various teaching styles, effective communication techniques, and how Outdoor Ethics fits into the BSA program.

Graduates, recognized by both the Center for Outdoor Ethics and Boy Scouts of America, are qualified to teach Leave No Trace Trainer Courses and Awareness Courses.

Course Options

Trek Option:

Needs a minimum of 6 and maximum of 12 participants to run. If the minimum is not met, the course option will fold into the Non-Trek option. If the Trek option makes, all participants will combine for 2 days of classroom presentations, then the trek group will split off to spend 4 days and 3 nights backpacking in the Tonto National Forest for the field experience portion of their training.

Non-Trek Option:

Needs a minimum of 6 and maximum of 12 participants. All participants will be combined for 2 days of classroom presentations, then the non-trek group will split off to camp in a primitive area of Camp Geronimo for their 4-day, 3-night field experience. This option does not require hiking long distances or breaking camp each day.
